

Sikini Lee is the new Principal at Gateway Tech High School. Prior to joining Gateway, she worked with a statewide virtual public school while serving as an adjunct professor with the Lone Star College System. An experienced, bilingual educator, Ms. Lee has served as a classroom teacher, an assistant principal, principal and head of school.

Ms. Lee earned her Bachelor's degree from the University of Texas at Austin and her Master's degree in Educational Administration from University of Houston – Clear Lake. She is working toward her Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership through University of Phoenix. Sikini (pronounced Sikina) has one daughter, Cassandra, and one four-legged child, Yoshi, a Yorkie. When she is not reading, cooking or listening to jazz, Sikini is probably traveling or volunteering with various mission ministries. Welcome, Ms. Lee!
